School Board Held a Lengthy Meeting—Hear Complaints of Janitors

Janitors Complain of Being Discriminated Against in Salary Reductions

The school board met on Oct. 4 with all members present. Considerable discussion took place on various matters, including teachers' certificates, salaries to janitors, and night classes.

Regarding the janitors, they asked that their salaries be the same as before they were reduced, one of the claims for adjustment being that they were the only employees of the school board to be reduced, while the teaching staff remained at the same salaries as in force for several years.

R. Sudworth speaking for the trustees on the subject, stated that the janitors should have raised their objections when the previous board was in office, and not have waited till a new board had taken office. The request was not granted.

A letter from Dr. Carpenter of Calgary technical institute asking the board to consider holding night classes was filed. Owing to the board's previous experience, it was decided not to hold classes, as it was feared it would entail expense through non-payment of fees by some of those who attended. The board's records showed that it was a losing proposition.

The financial report of the board secretary, J. Ford, was accepted on

Action Needed Opera House

Dave Gillespie, secretary of Coleman Miners' Association, states he has received no further word from the executive of the M.W.U. of A. regarding the transfer to the local association of the miners' hall and opera house. It has been proposed to hold the Armistice Day service there, and various local organizations are hopeful that the hall may be available for various community affairs, such as dances, entertainments, indoor carnivals, bazaars, and many other activities.

Miss Cogswell of Red Deer spent the week-end here the guest of Miss May Powell.

motion.

The management committee sanctioned the purchase of six additional desks for Central school.

A communication from A. E. Milley's radio shop was ordered filed.

Those teachers who are now working under second-class certificates have been requested by the board to qualify for first-class certificates.

The insurance policy on Cameron school, on motion of Antrobus and Sudworth, was placed for renewal with H. Snowdon, who attended the meeting.

The St. John Ambulance Association was granted the use of the basement of Central school for their instruction classes on Oct. 30.

The meeting adjourned after midnight. Present: J. M. Allan, chairman; Trustees W. Antrobus, F. Bessingham, P. Sudworth; W. Holley.

St. Paul's Church Welcomes New and Farewells Former Minister

Rev. Roy Taylor Receives Greetings of Coleman People—Mr. Larke Goes to Blairmore

On Friday evening, Oct. 7, St. Paul's United church congregation met in the church to greet Rev. Roy and Mrs. Taylor, and to bid farewell to Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Larke, on completion of over two years ministry here, and who has succeeded Rev. J. W. Smith at Blairmore.

Mayor Pattinson presided, extending a hearty welcome on behalf of the congregation. Mr. Taylor in reply expressed his appreciation of the welcome and stated he was commencing his sixth year of ministry among the mining population, therefore he knew something of their problems. He hoped his ministry would be blessed and that it would be of service to the people. Referring to prevailing conditions, he stated that we may discover, after all, how few our needs really are, and that wealth is not the measure of happiness.

Rev. A. S. Partington, of St. Alban's, extended greetings to Mr. Taylor, and hoped that an acquaintanceship began at Waterton while on a holiday would develop in friendship and co-operative effort now that he had taken up residence here.

Rev. A. E. Larke spoke on his record of ministry here, referring to pleasant friendships formed and his work among the young people, particularly the junior choir, members of which had given selections that evening. To the new minister he expressed sincere wishes for the success of his work here. Among his friendships he included those of his street corner acquaintances, the majority of whom never put foot inside a church. He emphasized the importance of group leadership among young people, in which the adults must take a hand. "Every boy has his hero, and it was necessary for men to lead the boys. His association with the Caledonian Society was also a pleasant memory. He made some comparisons between his present parish and Coleman, stating he had five adult leaders in his Sunday school. He thanked those who had been kind to himself and Mrs. Larke, and stated that the most pleasant memories were not those contained in yearly reports, but the friendships formed during their ministry here.

Refreshments were served at the close, and welcomes and farewells extended by members to the ministers.

The musical program capably presented included songs by the Misses Irene James, Edith Ash, Lorraine Rippon, Iame Hadley, Freda Antrobus; organ solo by J. Emmerson; recitation by Mrs. R. Holmes; address by Rev. John Wood of Bellevue; singing of "O Canada" and hymns by the congregation.

Captain Howlett and Lieut. Howlett, two lady officers of the Salvation Army at Macleod, recently sold a large number of copies of the 50th Anniversary Edition of the War Cry, which contained many interesting articles on 50 years of Army history in Canada. They were the guests of Mrs. Robert Holmes, Sixth street.

The Motordrome, Jones & Rinaldi, proprietors, is having a steam heating plant installed. Many improvements have been made by the energetic proprietors since they opened the business this summer.

News From Other Papers

From newspapers as far apart as New Glasgow, N. S., and Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, The Journal was quoted during the past few months, as recorded by the Dominion Press Clipping Agency. Included in the clippings was a very interesting report of a meeting in Nanaimo last June, addressed by Archie Fraser and Frank Leary, and H. E. Mills, a farmer from Colomay, Sask.

"Mr. F. Leary outlined conditions in the striking area of the Crow's Nest Pass district, the weapons used there being the R.C.M.P. with high powered rifles, the K.K.K. with their demoralizing effects, including the burning of crosses and sending letters to individuals, and shooting bullets through the windows of cars of leading officials of the miners' union."

"The speaker also stated the United church had opened its doors and invited weak brothers of the miners' union to public meetings, advising them as to the best way in which to break the strike, in reply to which the Coleman Journal came out with statements that the only way peace could be secured in the strike area was by treating the officials of the miners' union rough."

"Archie Fraser made an appeal for the Workers International Relief fund to help the needy miners."

Boy Scout Notes

A meeting of the local Boy Scouts committee was held in The Journal office on Oct. 7, with the following present: Rev. A. S. Partington, president; Rev. Jones, secretary; A. S. McLintock, scoutmaster; O. E. S. Whitehead, H. T. Halliwell, A. L. Watkins, executive committee.

The financial report showed a small surpluss to the credit of the Scout fund. It was decided to put on a whist drive and the Scouts to give a sketch, on Wed., Nov. 9.

In a discussion as to a winter program for the Scouts, a committee including Messrs. McLintock, Jones and Halliwell, were appointed to arrange this.

International and McGillivray companies have donated a shield to be given for general proficiency.

United Church Notes

11 a.m. The junior choir will sing. Sermon: "Bitter Waters Made Sweet," or Capitalizing Our Calamities."

7 p.m. Sermon: "If Not" Come and worship with us. Strangers and visitors will be made welcome.—Rev. Roy C. Taylor, B. A., B.D., minister.

The services were well attended last Sunday, especially the evening service, when the church was filled.

The senior choir will meet on Friday at 8 p.m. The minister and choir leader are desirous of having the choir lead the worship in singing. All who would like to join the choir are cordially invited to come on Friday at 8 p.m.

The W.M.S. and everyone interested in the missionary enterprise of the church are urged to keep Monday, Oct. 31 open, when a supper meeting and a session open to the public will be held in Bellevue United church. Rev. Dr. R. B. Cochrane, secretary of the Board of Home Missions, will be the special speaker.

The young people's club promises to fill a real need and has a field of opportunity in which to exercise its activities.

A party of young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyle on Friday evening, in aid of the Girl Guides funds. They spent a very enjoyable evening.

Board of Trade Meeting Will Be Held Next Wednesday Afternoon

Various Matters of Local Interest to Be Discussed and Election of Officers

At 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 19, the annual meeting of the Board of Trade will be held in the council chamber.

Resolutions from other boards have been submitted for approval, besides which there are many local matters to be considered by the board.

All members are urged to be present, to make the meeting as near 100 per cent. attendance as possible.

Local News

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomson on Sunday, Oct. 9.

A wounded eagle fell in the garden of A. Dewar's home last week.

Esther Nielsen was given a surprise party by a number of young friends on Saturday evening, in honor of her birthday.

Constable Houghton and others have been summoned to appear as witnesses in several criminal cases to be tried next week at Macleod, including the case of the Crown vs. Nakoff, arising out of the free fight in the Opera house on May 22.

"Make More Jobs—Buy Made in the West Products" is the slogan on bright colored posters vert out by the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba. A number have been displayed around town.

Arrangements are being made to hold Remembrance or Armistice Day service on Friday, Nov. 11th. If the Opera house is available, it will probably be held there. A committee including the local ministers and representatives of the ex service men will arrange the details. Poppies, made in the Veterans' shops by disabled soldiers, will be on sale on Nov. 8 by the Girl Guides.

Community Club to Be Organized by Young People of Coleman

Will Hold Weekly Meetings of Social Nature and Will Sponsor Sports Among Young People

A number of young people met on Tuesday evening to organize a social club for the winter season, and it is proposed to hold weekly meetings and to sponsor basketball and junior hockey teams, also other lines of sport among young people.

The season's membership fee was fixed at $2.50, and it is expected there will be a membership of about 75.

The weekly meetings will take the form of bridge parties, followed by a dance, or other activities to be arranged by the executive, of which announcement will be made.

A constitution will be drawn up by the executive, to be submitted to a meeting for approval. Committees for sports, entertainment, and a dramatic committee will be appointed.

The membership committee will consist of two ladies and two gentlemen, and other committees will be similarly appointed. A complete list of officers and committees will be announced following the general meeting of the organizing committee to be held at 2 p.m. on Sunday.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

It has been suggested by Rev. A. S. Partington that a memorial cairn should be erected in a garden plot at the town hall, and the bronze plaque bearing the names of Coleman war dead be built therein. Everyone will approve the suggestion, but nobody takes the leadership to get the work commenced. Here is a golden opportunity for some individual or organization to complete a worthy project.

Last week President Hoover was heard in a radio talk at Des Moines, Iowa. Coleman listeners heard it, and enjoyed it. Not because it was the president, particularly, but because of the enthusiastic cheering of the crowd. It must have been a Hoover crowd, for everything he said "went over big." Even when he paused to gasp for breath after rolling off a string of adjectives concerning the Democrats, the crowd roared their admiration of the man who was in his home state making his first address in the 1932 presidential campaign. "Did the Democrats do this when they had it in their power; or did they do that?" queried Mr. Hoover. To which the crowd with one acclaim roared—"NO!" It was an election crowd, with the attendant ballyhoo that goes with those things. To people listening in as impartial observers, it caused them to ponder over the fanatical enthusiasm of people for party. Some say elections do not have the "pep" of the old days, but listening in to a campaign address on the other side, it would appear they are just as "peppy" as ever in their politics. Mr. Hoover is not a silver-tongued orator, but shoots forth his remarks like a pugilist making forceful blows at his opponent.

A voice from Michel, referring to the recent victory of the Supinas' football team in winning the Alberta championship, evidently feels that there is just a little too much praise handed the Lethbridge team in stating that it is the first team in 24 years to take the championship from Calgary or Edmonton. "There is no soccer team either east or west of Michel, which has won more prizes than Michel. During a period of eight years they ruled the roost." So writes Robert Mitchell in a letter to the Lethbridge Herald. He concludes his letter with an intimation that should the association grant "Supinas" leave to play Michel, he has no doubt it will be readily accepted. He also states that Michel must have a good team, for since 1928 they have been barred from entering the Alberta championship games.

Adam McLintock, an energetic young married man of this town, is looking for new fields in which to expend his energy, and for some weeks has been endeavoring to stir up opinion towards organizing a rugby team. This is a more strenuous game than football, and in the tussles and the huddles you may lose your shirt and numerous pieces of your hide. However, a town such as this should furnish a "tough" team, and if Mr. McLintock is successful in his endeavors, sport fans will be given some real thrills, for rugby to the uninitiated appears to be a combination of football, prize-fighting and wrestling.

"We have our backs to the wall and we must make it a fight to a finish," remarks Editor Wallace of the Fernie Free Press, in an editorial on the difficulties besetting Fernie due to the closing of Coal Creek mine. In past years the enterprise of Fernie citizens has commanded admiration. They made a real city, business men built fine stores, the council laid good sidewalks and roads, and in the hey-day of prosperity it boasted thirteen hotels. Fernie's misfortune is similar to that of any other place which depends on one industry only. In agricultural districts, when the crop fails, business immediately feels the pinch, but there is always the possibility of a better crop next year. Not so when an industry closes down. It makes capital nervous of further investment.

But its board of trade believes that by making briquettes and utilizing by-products of coal, the coal industry may still continue. It is hoped that the efforts of Fernie's business men will meet with success. There is too much at stake to calmly sit down and allow things to drift. Many have businesses and workers have homes, which represent years of saving and hard work.

There is a timely warning in Fernie's plight to towns in this area of the Crows Nest Pass. What Editor Wallace states may well be applied to the communities this side of the inter-provincial boundary, when he says:

"Too long have our citizens sat back and allowed things to drift from bad to worse until today the unemployed situation has become a nightmare. For thirty years we have been told that our coal resources were the finest on the American continent from a steam coal point of view, but now the time has arrived when the demand for our steam coal has diminished to such a point that some immediate action must be taken to either increase the market or by establishing a briquetting plant to make it a domestic product and supply the territory west of us as far as Vancouver."

City to Put Stop to Posting Bills on Poles

The city has signified its intention of enforcing the regulation prohibiting the posting of bills and advertising literature on telephone poles. There have been more infractions of the ordinance during the past summer than usual, and the city intends to put a stop to the practice forthwith. After due notice prosecution will follow — Cranbrook Courier

If you have a local paper to advertise in, that is the proper place to get the widest publicity. It creates a good impression to everybody concerned. Give the news paper a break. It gives considerable free publicity and sometimes to those who use the telephone poles.

Care in preparing copy helps the printer set your advertisement the way you want it. Be sure it is right and you will be better served.

SOME OF THE CAUSES:

- A neglected camp fire.
- A settler's clearing fire.
- A carelessly handled burning straw stack
- A lighted match heedlessly flung
- An improper use of gasoline and kerosene.
- A yard or building full of rubbish.

These and many other causes result often in fires that snuff out lives and do untold property damage.

The suggestion is made that immediately following a snow storm, the sidewalks be cleaned off by men needing relief work. In past years the approaches to the depot and sections of sidewalk have been allowed to become piled with snow,
making it very unsightly and annoying. Now is the time to arrange these matters which mean much to the neat appearance of the business section.

The temperature early Sunday morning took a remarkable dip for this time of the year. At 8 a.m.

People selling goods of any kind from door to door are required by the town by-laws to take out a li-solicited by people calling at their homes, should politely ask if they have their license. If they wish to carry on business, the local authorities should compel them to observe the town by law.
